

Ustad Fazal Qureshi - Tabla

A family background that resonates taal and thap of Tabla, music runs deep in the veins and is Fazal Qureshi's natural inheritance. Under the guidance of his father and guru, the late great tabla maestro Ustad Ala Rakha, and with inspiration from his illustrious brother, Ustad Zakir Hussain, Fazal Qureshi has developed a style of his own that is distinguished by its rhythm, versatility and eloquence. Ustad Fazal Qureshi has expanded his horizons by engaging with other music forms especially jazz and western classical music.

The musicians he has performed with include Ustad Ala Rakha, Ustad Zakir Hussain, Pandit Shiv Kumar Sharma, Pandit Hariprasad Chaurasia, Ustad Aamad Ali Khan, Ustad Sultan Khan, Dr. L. Subramaniam, L. Shankar, Vikku Vinayakram, U. Srinivas, Ustad Shahid Parvez, and Sitara Devi.

Anders Hagberg - Saxophone

Anders background is in jazz and over the years he has been influenced by music from many other cultures and genres and he has had long time collaborations with Indian and Japanese musicians. Anders has toured worldwide with groups such as Myra, Yagdrasil and New Jungle Orchestra as well as his own projects Minduo and Earthsongs. His own solo CDs, which uses traditional Nordic sounds as a point of departure for improvisations were both nominated for Grammys.

Anders has played on a great number of records and been commissioned to compose music for a number of films and dance performances. He is also a Senior Lecturer in improvisation at the Academy of Music and Drama, Gothenburg University.

Ahmad Al Khatib - Oud

Ahmad was born in Jordan in 1974 into a family of Palestinian refugees. He began to learn the oud from an early age, taking lessons with the Palestinian master Ahmad Abdel Dasem, and went on to study music and cello at Yarmouk University in Jordan.

In 2004 he settled in Sweden, where he began to study for a Master's degree in Musical Education Methodology at the University of Gothenburg, and the following year saw the release of his first solo oud CD, 'Sada'. Ahmad is currently a lecturer at the University's Academy of Music and Drama, where he teaches modal music, composition theory and ensemble music.
