

Cuerpos y Fronteras en América Latina

Bodies and Borders in Latin America

Editors: Silje Lundgren, Thais Machado-Borges,
Charlotta Widmark

Institute of Latin American Studies

Stockholms
universitet

SERIE HAINA VIII

Bodies and borders in Latin America
8th workshop of Haina – Nordic Network for Gender Studies in Latin America
August 2010

Editors: Silje Lundgren, Thais Machado-Borges and Charlotta Widmark

English language-editing: Anne Cleaves
Corrección del castellano: Alejandra Donoso

Cover and text processing: Erick Arango Marcano

Cover photo: © 2010 Thais Machado-Borges

Published with support from Granholms stiftelse and the Swedish Research Council.

Published by the Institute of Latin American Studies, Stockholm University, in collaboration with Red Haina/ School of Global Studies, Regional Studies: Latin America, University of Gothenburg.

© 2012 The authors
All rights reserved

ISBN 978-91-637-0871-8
ISSN 1403-3933
Serie Haina, 1403-3933 ; 8

Contents

	Introduction
	Silje Lundgren, Thaïs Machado-Borges & Charlotta Widmark	3
1.	Cheiro bom, cheiro ruim – On bodies, senses, and social classifications
	Thaïs Machado-Borges	7
2.	The fluidity of sexual preference and identity: A challenge for social movements and AIDS prevention programs in Brazil
	Maj-Lis Follér & Simone Monteiro	15
3.	Shaking that ass: Reggaetón as an embodiment of “low culture” to mark difference and privilege in contemporary Havana
	Silje Lundgren	31
4.	El mundo femenino en la “antipoesía” de Nicanor Parra
	Hólmfríður Gardarsdóttir & Soffía Jóhannessdóttir	51
5.	Cuerpos grotescos en la narrativa de Washington Cucurto
	Débora Rottenberg (not available online)	71
6.	Labor organizing among women workers in maquiladoras: Crossing the border of gender and class in the cases of Matamoros, Mexico, and San Marcos, El Salvador
	Edmé Domínguez R. & Cirila Quintero	77
7.	The impact of guerrilla participation on K’iche’ women’s collective identity formation process
	Tine Destrooper	97
8.	Embodied plurinational identities in the urban highlands of Bolivia
	Charlotta Widmark	115

Women, indigenous, poor? The construction of gender in Latin America from the perspective of intersectionality

	Introduction	130
9.	Intersectionality in Latin America? The possibilities of intersectional analysis in Latin American studies and study of religion Elina Vuola	131
10.	How to study race, class, and gender in Latin American literature? Some perspectives for applying the concept of intersectionality as a strategic approach in the Cuban narrative Auli Leskinen (not available online)	153
11.	Extending the dimensions of ethnicity and gender in the indigenist prose of Rosario Castellanos Sarri Vuorisalo-Tiitinen	165