

Traditionalism and Occultism

Christian Giudice

Traditionalism and Occultism:

Arturo Reghini and the Antimodern
Reaction in Early Twentieth Century Italy

‘There exists to this day, in the West, a serious tradition, outside of the carnival racket of the parodies and the claims of so-called contemporary occultism.’

Arturo Reghini, Introduction to Agrippa’s De Occulta Philosophia, 1927.

Christian Giudice

UNIVERSITY OF GOTHENBURG

UNIVERSITY OF GOTHENBURG

UNIVERSITY OF GOTHENBURG